At the bottom, it says 'Join Currys Perks at www.currys.co.uk/perks'. The Currys Perks logo is in the top right corner.

Perks matches the best from the Nordics with offers that have high appeal for UK customers

Member discounts on top tech throughout the year

Monthly surprises with competitions and the chance to win the latest tech

VIP shopping with invitations to secret sales

Partner benefits, including collaboration with streaming services

We've already signed up a third of UK households to Currys Perks

...and early signs are encouraging

Perks is just the first step in bringing together our data and using it to create stickier and more valuable customers

We are bringing our disparate customer bases together to create a single view of our customers

With this combined insight we can:

¹ Unique customer households who have purchased electricals within the last 12 months

² Unique customers with whom we have an ongoing contractual relationship

We are driving increased customer loyalty

We can measure the loyalty of our customer base by calculating how likely they are to return the next year

“Likelihood to Return” or LTR is a direct measure of customer loyalty and the single biggest driver of lifetime value

We can show that our strategy will result in stickier and more valuable customers – with higher LTR

For example:

We have 100k customers in a particular segment:

Based on modelling historic behaviour of similar customers, we know that

45k of these customers are likely to return to shop with us next year

= 45% LTR

Omnichannel shopping and frequency are key loyalty drivers – and already a core part of our strategy

Omnichannel and cross-category behaviour:

Customers who shop across both stores and online, are 27% more likely to return¹

Customers who purchase from more than one category are 20% more likely to return²

- New websites
- Colleague LIFE training
- Best of both channels

Shopping frequency:

Capturing one extra basket from a customer³ each year increases LTR by 50%

- Expanding our range and launching new categories
- More personalised communication
- Customer Club and Currys Perks

¹ LTR of UK customers who have transacted in one versus both channels, normalised for frequency

² LTR of UK customers, Categories: core electricals, white goods, and computing, normalised for frequency

³ Customers = UK customers who have shopped at least once in the last 3 years

But Services – Credit especially – are the strongest loyalty drivers of all

Impact on loyalty

Credit helps customers afford the technology they want

Repeat Credit customers are 70% more likely to return than non-credit customers, they also:

- ✓ Drive incremental sales - c.30% of Credit sales are incremental
- ✓ Spend more: Credit customer have a 10% higher ATV (in stores) and 3% higher ATV (online)
- ✓ Have a 20% pt higher services attach (stores)

...and we will grow the number of credit customers

We already have over 8.5m active Services customers in the UK who come to us to help get their tech started, get the most out of it and to give it a longer life...

...and we will create even stickier propositions that build greater loyalty

We're building on strengths across all four stages of Services

Credit is already strong – with improvements coming for new and existing customers

We have strong foundations

Active credit accounts in UK

Our growth strategy is focused on four areas:

More flexible and tailored credit propositions:

- Pay in 3
- Flexible pricing

Personalising through data and CRM:

- Stimulate repeat spend
- Utilisation of available balances

Optimising Omnichannel journeys:

- Maximise conversion
- Improve customer outcome

Adding a second lender, NewDay:

- Better acceptance rates

On track to achieve 16% of sales from credit by 23/24

In addition to Credit, we know customers value paid-for Services, and we have plenty of headroom

UK&I: EBIT margins to see material improvement through gross margin stabilisation and cost initiatives

UK&I EBIT Margin

Gross margin has stabilised:

- Online share of business to remain broadly stable following large shift in pandemic
- Strategic initiatives directly influence gross margin
- Some cost saving programmes impact gross margin

Operating cost reductions to more than offset inflation and other headwinds:

- Fully evaluated cost reductions programmes covering all aspects of cost base

UK&I: Gross margin has now stabilised

UK&I Gross Margin

Historic gross margin decline driven by:

- Growing online share of business
- Legacy Mobile issues
- Travel business closure

Gross margin stable through strategic initiatives:

- Channel mix has stabilised
- But even if channel mix continues, gross margin will improve:
 - New websites – Services adoption, premiumisation, bundling, x-selling
 - Colleague – Support store & omnichannel margin
 - Credit – New credit offerings, growing size of credit base
 - Services – wider range that are easier to access

Cost saving programmes impact gross margin:

- Supply chain and Service operations efficiencies

We aim to take out a further ~£300m costs from the UK&I business by 2023/24

Five big areas of focus:

Gross profit

1. Modernising our supply chain and service operations

Operating costs

2. Making stores more productive and lowering costs
3. Rationalising our IT systems
4. Simplifying our central costs
5. Significant GNFR savings

2018/19 – 2020/21 Cost Base

2020/21 – 2023/24 Cost Base

We are transforming our supply chain to improve efficiency and offset inflationary pressures

We have partnered with

GXO

who are running our UK warehouse operations

- To bring world class best practice and cost efficiency
- Together we are committed to delivering exceptional colleague and customer experiences

What we are delivering

A new Order Management System to:

- Enable end-to-end visibility of stock
- Deliver on our customer promises
- Drive efficiencies
- Increase flexibility and capacity

New route planning and delivery systems

Better automation across logistics, warehousing and spares

Transforming our Service Operations

Each year...

~4 million
returns

~2 million
repairs

- Old and unsupported systems

We are delivering

- Repair and Returns transformation
- Single service platform
- Field repair scheduling
- Returns self-serve portal
- RepairLive

Right-shoring and digitising will reduce customer contact centre costs

Delivering a digital-first strategy that gives customer ease and choice at a lower cost to serve

UK&I Contact Channel Split

Current

2024 target

11.4m inbound calls

58% first contact resolved

4.4m inbound calls

80% first contact resolved

Invest in colleagues and technology:

1. Optimised contact management
2. Consolidating outsourced activities
3. Right-shoring activities
4. Retaining our expert UK colleagues

Store colleagues to spend more time with customers by reconfiguring our operating model

We are transforming our in-store labour model to maximise what store colleagues do best – serving customers – whilst reducing costs overall:

Removing non-value added tasks and empowering our colleagues to resolve “process/efficiency frustrations” (e.g. in stock management)

Developing adaptable, multi-skilled, colleagues who can work seamlessly and flexibly across channels

Redeploying millions of hours to be customer facing

% of colleague time spent with customers

We are accelerating the decommissioning of our legacy IT estate

Over the next 3 years we will consolidate 60% of our estate

We are:

- Moving from two, largely independent technology stacks to one
- Decommissioning redundant application systems
- Simplifying our IT landscape

This new landscape will be

- ✓ Lower cost to run
- ✓ Simpler to manage
- ✓ Easier to develop
- ✓ An enabler vs a constraint

We have already consolidated our multiple payroll, HR and Finance systems into SAP with much more still to do.

We will continue to become a more efficient organisation

Central costs have already reduced by 15% since 2018

Supported by the move to one brand, we will continue to simplify our business becoming faster, more agile and lower cost

We will continue to achieve this through

- Leveraging off-shore locations
- Improving and automating our processing capability e.g. optimising our back office processes
- Transforming our digital landscape to improve efficiency e.g. simplifying our payroll systems to improve administration

Significant GNFR procurement savings of ~£100m by 2023/24

On plan to save over £25m this year

Further savings to come from:

- Re-tendering contracts e.g. facilities management
- Rationalisation of tail-end suppliers
- Centralisation of procurement e.g. stationery / short-term rentals
- Consolidation of sourcing
- Supplier negotiations

Our move to a single brand is helping to enable this. For example, we are moving from 200 facility management suppliers to a handful of partners

Number of GNFR Suppliers

International: Strong EBIT margins to continue improving

International EBIT margin

Revenue growth driven by same complementary initiatives

Gross margin to decline slightly:

- Gross margin expected to see small headwind as online share of business increases

Operating cost leverage:

- Costs to grow at slower rate than sales, creating small amounts of leverage

Capital expenditure to normalise...

Currys (UK&I)

UK&I Capex / sales

Elkj p & Kotsovolos (Nordics & Greece)

To remain stable at c. 1.5% of sales

International Capex / sales

...and plan does not require any more material exceptional cash costs

Exceptional cash costs

1. Other costs comprise mainly of costs incurred for historic actions (e.g. fine for historic data breaches)

Drives £250m of annual sustainable free cash flow

Sustainable free cash flow

Sustainable free cash flow is defined as operating cashflow less capital expenditure, exceptional cash costs, tax and interest

Capital Structure & Allocation

Alex Baldock
& Bruce Marsh

Group liabilities have fallen significantly

Total accounting indebtedness

Total indebtedness has reduced to ~£1.5bn from ~£2.7bn

- Pension deficit expected to continue reducing in line with contributions (triennial valuation in April 2022)
- Lease liabilities expected to decrease as we work to reduce lease terms
- Working capital facilities no longer used

Balance sheet now strong and flexible

Average Net cash / (debt)

Significant improvement driven by:

- Material unwind of network debtor
- One-year cessation of dividend

Average and year-end net cash / (debt) to be similar from now on

Group Revolving Credit Facility of £550m expires in April 2025

- Covenants: fixed charge cover 1.75x, net debt leverage <2.5x

Aim to maintain prudent balance sheet considering both net debt and total indebtedness levels

Rationale

Flexibility to react to changes in circumstance
Economic strength to react to any market downturn

Aim to improve Total Indebtedness to at least these ratios:

Fixed charge cover

>1.5x

$$\frac{\text{(Operating cashflow + cash lease costs)}}{\text{(Cash lease costs + cash interest + pension cash paid)}}$$

2020/21: 1.7x

Net indebtedness leverage

<2.5x

$$\frac{\text{(Year end total indebtedness ex restricted funds)}}{\text{(Operating cashflow + cash lease costs)}}$$

2020/21: 2.7x

Capital allocation priorities

After maintaining prudent balance sheet and paying required pension contributions, we have the following priorities for use of cash

Invest to grow business/profits/ cashflow

Target payback of 24 months for transformation investments

New post-investment review process to drive better returns

Pay and grow ordinary dividend

3p annual dividend to grow above inflation each year

Surplus capital available to return to shareholders

Buybacks or special dividends to be announced as appropriate

Returns above £78m pa*
to be matched by pension contributions

*Annual return includes both dividend and buyback and is measured on cash basis for each financial year

Shareholder return

New £75m buyback announced

Shares to be bought by October 2022

Expect to pay at least £35m further dividends in next 12 months*

In total over £110m annual return, equal to >7.5% of current market value

*Subject to shareholder approval
